IMPORTANT!

We have become aware that there are concerns on the 'ready to use' indicator and we want to address these.

The 'ready to use' indicator is positioned on the front of the unit. When the unit is cold, the indicator will be red, as the unit heats up it subtly changes colour. Once the unit is hot the indicator will be clear.

The unit will heat up in 3-5 minutes.

The indicator is not a light and will not illuminate when the unit is turned on.
