To manually check the signal strength of a known channel:

1. Press the Menu button.
2. Turn and press the Select dial to choose 'Manual tune'.
3. Turn and press the Select dial to choose the channel.

Dynamic range control

Dynamic Range Control (DRC) is used to make quieter sounds in a digital radio broadcast easier to hear at low volume or in a noisy environment. Check with the broadcasters to find out if they use DRC.

To change the DRC settings:

1. Press the Menu button.
2. Turn and press the Select dial to choose 'DRC'.
3. Turn and press the Select dial to choose between one of the following options:
   DRC high: Applies maximum compression to the DRC level.
   DRC low: Applies reduced compression to the DRC level.
   DRC off: Removes DRC compression.

FM radio settings

Note: You can only see the FM radio settings when you have selected ‘FM’ as the radio source.

FM stereo option

You can choose between stereo or mono reception when listening to FM radio. Mono may improve clarity where stereo signals are weak.

To change between Stereo or Mono reception:

1. Press the Menu button.
2. Turn and press the Select dial to choose ‘Audio Setting’.
3. Select between ‘Stereo Allowed’ or ‘Forced Mono’.

FM scan

You can choose whether your Elan E3 automatically stops at the next available FM station or the next available FM station with a strong signal when scanning for an FM station. To change the FM scan setting:

1. Press the Menu button.
2. Turn and press the Select dial to choose ‘Scan Setting’.
3. Select between ‘Strong Stations Only’ or ‘All Stations’.
